

ONLINE CAN FEEL EASIER. THAT DOESN'T MEAN IT'S SAFE.

REAL PEOPLE
REAL
SUPPORT

It may feel more comfortable to talk, share, or connect online than it does face-to-face, but you can't assume people online are who they say they are.

ONLINE EXPLOITATION CAN START WITH SOMEONE WHO:

- Expresses shared interests or commonalities
- Gives you constant attention or compliments
- Offers gifts, money, or favors
- Asks you to keep the relationship secret
- Pressures you for personal information or images
- Moves conversations to private or disappearing messages
- Uses guilt, threats, or fear to control you

STOP. BLOCK. SAVE THE EVIDENCE. TELL A TRUSTED ADULT.

YOU ARE IMPORTANT.
YOU ARE NOT ALONE.
YOU ARE SUPPORTED.

Your courage to report
could help save someone else.
